

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MEETING

January 18th @ 3 pm

“New Year!! New Information Systems!!”

“New Goals Require Different Habits” By The Mind Journal

New Goal: To provide secure, seamless access to technology and information resources in all forms through a reliable and robust infrastructure.

New Purpose: IS enables the city to have full access to technology equipment, computer systems, support, and provide customer service. Information Systems is responsible for the city’s technology infrastructure, architecture, hardware, software, and network.

New Aim: To encourage curiosity, ingenuity, resourcefulness and positive work environment, while stimulate self-confidence through the knowledge, application of technology, and develop best practices skills through restructuring.

New Objective: To streamline work processes and improve communication within the city which helps us save time and making operations much more efficient.

Change and Transition: All areas of IS will experience change and transition this year. We will experience growing pain. Let’s be patience with each other and grow as one unit.

Team Focus:

Communication

Positive Work Environment
